

Press Release – Soner Akay: Time To Go

For immediate release

Soner Akay presents Time To Go

A personal journey about letting go, growth, and hope, created with human creativity and AI technology

On February 12, 2026, the new single Time To Go by songwriter and creator Soner Akay will be released. The track follows Too Bad for Love and December, telling a story about self-love, resilience and believing in the future.

A personal foundation

Soner Akay creates music based on his personal experiences. Too Bad for Love was about breaking free from toxic relationships and situations that drain your energy. December was a warm interlude inspired by winter and the holiday season. Both tracks were co-produced with Suno v5 AI, which technically refines Soner's vocals while keeping the emotional essence intact.

With Time To Go, Soner continues this story. The song is about letting go, moving forward, and choosing yourself again. All lyrics, chords, and emotional choices were created by Soner Akay and sung by him as a guide. The final track uses Suno v5 AI to perfect the vocals without losing the emotion.

Technology as support, not replacement

Soner focuses on creative input and personal expression. Suno v5 AI enhances the vocals but never replaces the emotion or intention of the artist. This creates a unique combination of human creativity and modern technology.

"My strength lies in the story and the emotion. Suno helps me convey that as purely as possible." – Soner Akay

Waverider Records and Wave Makers

Through Waverider Records, Soner Akay aims to create a world where hope, love, and strength are central. Under the Wave Makers concept, he demonstrates that brilliant music does not need extreme production costs. Technology helps bring his creative vision and emotional power to life.

"My goal is a world where music inspires and connects. Technology allows me to realize this vision without high costs being a barrier." – Soner Akay

Time To Go – bilingual and universal

The track is bilingual (English/Turkish) and invites listeners to let go, grow, and believe in tomorrow. It serves as an inspiring continuation of his previous releases and demonstrates how music and technology can enhance each other.
